ARMED EFFORT TO RELEASE A REBEL

Eight armed men made an attack on the hospital in Ciudad Juarez, about midnight Wednesday with the supposed intention of releasing the Magonista leader, J. M. Rangel, who is wounded and a prisoner there, also Prictiano Silva, also held a prisoner at the hospital, captured one of their number, Jose Ruiz.

The men rode up from the south in the rear of the hospital and opened fire on the soldiers guarding the Magonista prisoners. The guards returned the fire and immediately reinforcements were sent from the barracks. The fight lasted only a few minutes before those making the attack were driven away in the darkness.

It is not known whether the insurgents wounded any of the attacking party or not, as it was dark and was impossible to see them.

It is believed that the men who made the attack on the hospital were Magonista sympathizers, as threats have been made by the Magonistas in El Paso that they would assist their leader to escape from the Juarez hospital.

Maj. Avina has strengthened the guard at the hospital, to be ready if it is attempted again to take Rangel.

NEW GOVERNOR IN STATE OF SINALOA

Petty Jealousies Are Said to Have Caused Change There.

The governor of Sinaloa, Viesla Viosola y Ropho, resigned last Sunday, according to a letter received by an El Pasoan from Culiacan, Sinaloa, and Juan Vanberan, the military chief of the state, was appointed in his place.

The change was caused by jealousies among the military officers, it is said, and, to save trouble, the governor resigned.

There was no trouble in Culiacan during the change in the officers of the state.

Viosola y Ropho, who resigned as governor, is a brother-in-law of Manuel Bonilla, the police inspector in Mexico, who is well known to El Paso people.

Juarez Force to Work Like the White Wings of New York.

The Ciudad Juarez squad of street cleaners—"white wings"—of New York—have been ordered by mayor J. N. Medina to begin work on cleaning the streets of the city at midnight in the future, and to work from that hour until six in the morning. Formerly the men worked in the middle of the day, and, besides being unable to accomplish much on account of the street traffic the dust and dirt was disagreeable to the citizens.

By the night work, mayor Medina

LABOR SCARCITY CAUSES SHUTDOWN

La Republica Mines Cannot Secure Sufficient Mexican Labor.

Scarcity of labor has caused the La Republica Mining company to close down its mills 40 miles west of Ocampo, Mex. Since the revolution it has been impossible to obtain satisfactory Mexican labor.

The La Republica company recently had a strike among its miners but this has been settled and the development work is being continued. The rainy season in Mexico has been unusually severe and this has also interfered with the operation of the mines and the mills were closed for one month, rather than run without a supply of ore sufficient to operate full time.

The mill will be overhauled during the shutdown. The boiler plant will be extended by the addition of a new 75 horse power boiler and another tube mill is being added to the plant. It is expected to resume milling operations by Sept. 1.

HEAVY FINE FOR SALOON MAN WHO SELLS LIQUOR TO INTOXICATED MAN

Portland, Oregon, Judge Denounces a Saloon Keeper Who Violated Law and Says Such Acts Make Prohibition.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 10.—Selling liquor to men who already have enough is a serious matter in this Oregon city.

In inflicting the maximum penalty of six months' imprisonment in the city jail and a fine of $250 on Frank May, a saloon keeper, found guilty of selling liquor to an intoxicated man, municipal judge Tazwell grided the police department and declared that it is such men as the defendant who are "bringing odium on the liquor business and hastening the day when prohibition will sweep this state."

May conducts a saloon on the south side of Stark street, between Sixth and Seventh. Mrs. Frank Skidmore appealed to deputy city attorney Sullivan, July 21, to prevent him and Joe Morrison, who has a saloon on Sixth, near Couch street, from selling liquor to her husband while the latter was intoxicated.

The evidence that May had supplied Skidmore with liquor when he was drunk, May 19, and again June 27, was clearly proved. A chauffeur testified to seeing Skidmore while intoxicated place a gold coin on the bar and rounds of liquor were supplied until all was spent. The philippic delivered by judge Tazwell in passing sentence was one of the strongest ever heard from the local municipal bench. He said:

"You were found guilty by the court yesterday on two separate charges of selling liquor to a drunken person. At the conclusion of the trial my impression was that the maximum penalty on at least one of the charges should be imposed on you. After carefully considering since then the testimony offered, including your own, I am convinced that my impression then formed was correct."

"The testimony discloses that for a long time you have been selling intoxicating liquors to Skidmore while he was in a drunken condition. It also discloses that Skidmore's wife went to you on different occasions and pleaded with you to refrain from further selling liquor to her husband. You promised her that you would accede to her request, but you never did until after this proceeding had been instituted."

"It is such men as you that compel wives to come to me almost daily to protect them from the brutal acts of their husbands, committed while in an intoxicated condition. And it is the actions of such men as you that are bringing odium on the liquor business and hastening the day when prohibition will sweep this state."

"The fact that you have been in the liquor business for at least 15 years, and during all that time have never been arrested for a violation of any ordinance in my opinion should afford no mitigating circumstance in the case at bar. No policeman instituted this action, and if it had not been for Mrs. Skidmore beginning this proceeding after all her entreaties with you had been of no avail you would not be in this court.

"The police for some reason have not cared to molest you in your nefarious business, although the offenses were committed within four blocks of the city jail. It seems almost incredible that during the six months that you have conducted your present saloon an officer has not arrested you for violating the liquor ordinances. From the number of persons coming into this court on the charge of drunkenness I am convinced that this ordinance is violated with impunity by many liquor dealers."

"The offenses with which you are charged are so aggravated and so clearly proved that I do not regard a fine as sufficient punishment therefor. On the first charge the court imposes a fine of $250 and sentences you to serve a term of six months in the city jail. The sentence on the second charge will be suspended for the time being."

SECRETARIES ENTER CONSPIRACY DENIAL

Fourteen Lumber Associations, Through Secretaries Issue Statement.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 10.—Branding as false and absurd the charge of "conspiracy in restraint of trade" as contained in the indictment recently returned by a federal grand jury in Chicago, 14 secretaries and executives of retail lumber associations throughout the United States issued a signed statement setting forth their position.

The lumber secretaries maintain they have a right to demand that the wholesalers sell to them and refrain from entering into competition with them dealing direct with the consumer.

If they are to be restrained from protecting their retail interests the lumber men claim retailers in other lines should be brought under the same rule. The statement contends that every wholesaler and retailer has a right to establish his own rule of conduct in regard to business transaction or cites a decision of the United States supreme court, to substantiate them.

They Pull Better.

The reason The Herald "want" ads pull better is simply that they reach farther—that is, they are read by more persons than ads in other El Paso papers.

Over 12,000 persons are reached by The Herald daily.

El Paso is well covered and hundreds of cities and towns about as well as rural routes are reached. To cover all of these, it costs only a few cents. Call Bell, 115; Auto, 1115, state your "want" that's all.
